REPUBLICANS ARE IN CONVENTION

ASSEMBLE IN CHICAGO TO NOMINATE NATIONAL TICKET

Program of First Day Carried Out Like Clock Work—Not a Disturbing Element Heard—Lack of Contest Eliminates Enthusiastic Display of Feeling—the Proceedings.

Chicago, June 21.—Without a disturbing element to impede the smooth operation the first day's program for the Republican national convention was carried out like clock work. Not a farthing sound was heard, not a false step taken. It was an assembly of non-combative delegates which carried into effect without a disturbance the program of the day. Organization was perfected preparatory to adoption of the platform and making of nominations in the succeeding days of the convention.

From quiet, yet unmistakable enthusiasm, provoked by Senator Fairbanks' arrival at the Coliseum, his nomination for vice president is but little less assured than the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for president.

The keynote to the campaign of 1904 was sounded by Elihu Root in his speech as temporary chairman. His address was a review of the accomplishments of the present administration and a defense of Republican policies in general. When that had been delivered and various committees dispatched their labors, the business of the first day's session was completed.

Another picture was presented by the opening day so different from the customary convention scene as to attract marked attention. It was the failure of the delegates and spectators to warm to the spirit of the occasion. The mention of Roosevelt was responded to with hearty, though not prolonged applause. The lack of contest eliminated the necessity for enthusiastic display of feeling, and the mild cheering and rather listless handclapping which was the greeting given impartially to national figures of the party was all probably that could be expected under the circumstances. Lack of public interest in the convention was evidenced by the large number of spectators' seats vacant. Seats at former Republican conventions usually brought a premium. To day spectators offered them, but there were few takers and as the hour approached for the convention to assemble they sold for a song.

The crowning feature of the decorations is a painting of the late Senator Hanna, which hangs directly over the platform and occupies the most conspicuous position in the coliseum. President Roosevelt was as prominently shown in a heroic painting spectacularly unveiled on the chairman's platform at the conclusion of Root's speech, a climax that brought a prolonged outburst of enthusiasm.

An incident which is destined to live on after the spasmodic demonstrations have been forgotten was Root's tribute to President McKinley. The temporary chairman spoke of the late president's administration of progress, his gentleness of character and those qualities so beloved by the nation, and in that connection said with feeling, "and with McKinley, we remember Hanna."

A hush almost oppressive spread over the 7,000 or more persons present. The speaker had paused expectantly. As he started to resume the full force of the is stretched between the two greatest recent political heroes went home to the delegates. The applause started and a sympathetic wave was carried to every part of the great hall. The demonstration was unlike any that had preceded it or that came after. An indefinable dignity was attached to the demonstration, which seemed foreign to a political gathering.

FAIRBANKS' BOOM.

Fairbanks' boom for the vice presidency flourished unrestricted during the convention proceedings. The ovation given Fairbanks as he went to his place within the Indiana delegation was greater than was received by any of his distinguished colleagues.

STATE PRIDE.

State pride figured strongly in the convention. Each state had its friends in the galleries who showered plaudits upon their great men as they entered the coliseum. The first "big man" to arrive was Senator Allison. The Iowa contingent heeded his welcome and this was taken up by surrounding visitors who recognized the Hawkeye statesman. Depew, Fulton, Cannon, Grosvenor, Root and their early arrivals received their share of applause.

The first speech at the convention was by Senator Scott, who informally presented Chairman Payne a beautiful gavel, the gift of the Chicago Citizens' committee. Later a similar gavel was presented to Temporary Chairman Root.

WOMAN DELEGATE.

In the convention hall to day was one woman delegate who had the same right to vote that was held by each accredited male delegate. She was Mrs. Charles A. Eldridge, of Colorado Springs, Colo., alternate delegate, whose principal was absent. Other women alternate present were Mrs. Owen Leever, of Colorado; Mrs. Susan West, of Idaho; and Mrs. Jennie N. Nelson, of Utah, those states having woman suffrage.

INDIANA DELEGATION.

Chicago, June 21.—The Indiana delegation made a tour of the state delegations to night and created considerable interest, although no direct attempt was made to boom the nomination of Fairbanks. There is practically a unanimous belief that Fairbanks will be chosen. There has been some communication with Representative Hitt and he has been informed of the situation. It is expected that he will authorize the withdrawal of his name, in which event the other candidates also will be withdrawn and the nomination of Fairbanks made unanimous.

ORGANIZATION

Committee Names Cannon Permanent Chairman—The Resolutions Committee

Chicago, June 21.—The committee on permanent organization organized by electing W. M. Johnson, of New Jersey, chairman, and Gov. George H. Carter, of Hawaii, secretary. Joseph G. Cannon was selected permanent chairman of the convention. No other name was presented. All temporary officers, except chairman were made permanent. Honorary vice presidents, nominated by state delegations, were made vice presidents of the convention.

RESOLUTIONS.

The resolutions committee elected Senator Lodge chairman; Senator Clarke secretary, and R. G. Proctor, of Massachusetts, clerk. The chair was authorized to appoint a sub-committee to prepare the platform. Senator Lodge announced the following sub-committee to formulate a platform: Lodge, of Massachusetts; Gallinger, New Hampshire; Lauterbach, New York; Datzell, Pennsylvania; Foraker, Ohio; Hopkins, Illinois; Clark, Wyoming; Nelson, Minnesota; Hainsbrough, North Dakota; Heyburn, Idaho; Blythe, Iowa; Beveridge, Indiana and Short, of California.

The committee listened to a delegation of women suffragists who urged a declaration in favor of woman suffrage should be made. Mrs. Clara Parker Woolley and Rev. Olympia Brown, of Wisconsin, made a plea for the plank.

Representative Parthold, of Missouri, presented an international abolition plank.

The committee adjourned until 10 o'clock to morning and Senator Lodge at once convened the sub-committee.

Before adjourning for dinner the sub-committee heard a representative of the Afro-American league and Negro Suffrage association in favor of the federal jurisdiction of elections. John M. Switzer, delegate from the Philippines, and a member of the committee on credentials, submitted the draft of a plank favoring tariff reduction and ultimate free trade between the United States and the Philippines. The sub-committee decided adversely to the proposition as part of the platform.

Just before midnight a member of the sub-committee said an agreement had been reached on the tariff plank and there would be no minority report. He said the declaration for protection was emphatic, but promised revision when necessary; but such revision should be made by Republicans. A mild reciprocity clause is incorporated.

WILL GO TO FAIR.

Chicago, June 21.—The Republican convention to day accepted an invitation to visit the St. Louis exposition and will leave Friday morning on special trains over the Chicago & Alton, Wabash and Illinois Central. The railroad furnish free transportation.

THE PLATFORM

Matter in Hands of Sub-committee on Resolutions—Tariff Plank Attracts Attention

Chicago, June 21.—When the sub-committee on resolutions met Senator Lodge for the first time presented his draft of the platform, saying it was intended largely as a basis for action by the committee. His draft included a plank strongly commending the established Republican policy on tariff and presenting in terse language the necessity for maintaining the protective policy in the interest of American labor and American industries. Added to this was a declaration committing the party to re-adjustment of schedules, if found desirable in the future.

There was also a mild declaration on reciprocity and pronouncement against trusts, but with reservation in the interest of "established legitimate industries." In this connection it congratulated the party upon legislation on the trust question which has been secured since Roosevelt became the president.

There were also planks dealing with the isthmian canal, the policy of the United States toward Cuba, and a declaration in favor of encouraging American shipping.

A number of suggestions were made as to other matters to be included in the platform, but none had been acted upon when the committee adjourned for dinner.

The tariff plank is attracting more attention than any other feature of the platform and members of the sub-committee think an agreement will be reached until a late hour. Already objections have been raised to the wording of the plank and Representative Datzell and Senator Hainsbrough were opposing the clause relating to reciprocity.

A great effort is to be made to make the tariff plank a "stand-pat" declaration and at the same time hold out a promise for revision "when necessary." The wording of this clause the sub-committee finds the most vexatious question before it.

Chicago, June 21.—The tariff plank as agreed upon by the sub-committee, declares for the "cardinal principles of protection," and further that "the rate of duty should be the difference between the cost of production in the United States and abroad. The rates of duty should be readjusted only when conditions have so changed that public interest demands it. All such changes should be made by the Republican party."

A long paragraph was adopted in relation to reciprocity after an exciting and protracted contest by a bare majority. Several votes were taken on this subject and it was reconsidered two or three times before being finally agreed to.

Its declaration is for "commercial reciprocity, which is only possible under a protective tariff and whenever reciprocity arrangements can be perfected without injury to any industry."

The opposition to reciprocity was led by Blythe, of Iowa; Datzell and Hainsbrough, while Senators Lodge and Foraker persisted in the effort to secure the declaration. It was urged that reciprocity had been endorsed by previous platforms, and more particularly in the last speech of President McKinley at Buffalo, and had been followed by the present administration in carrying out the policies of the McKinley administration.

More time was spent on this issue than on all the remainder of the platform and all opponents only consented to the agreement when it appeared that the fight might be taken into the committee on resolutions, and possibly before the convention. As the matter stands the sub-committee will report unanimously and it is expected its action will be ratified by the full committee to morrow.

A plank was adopted urging the acceptance by all foreign countries of passports issued to Jewish citizens of the United States. A plank was adopted calling on congress to investigate whether the right of franchise is being violated and if so that state violating section 14 be limited in their congressional and electoral college representation.

CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE.

The credentials committee organized for work at 4 o'clock with Senator McComas, of Maryland, in the chair. A resolution was adopted the committee sit in conjunction session until all contested cases are disposed of.

The credentials committee decided the Louisiana contest by awarding seats to both the "Lily White" and "Black and Tan" delegations each delegate to have half a vote.

The "Black and Tan" Louisiana faction decided to night to carry their contest to the floor of the convention. They object to the vote being split with the "Lily Whites."

The committee awarded A. W. Love and J. H. Harris, of the Fifth Missouri district the full vote of that district and reversed the action of the national committee, which had divided the vote between the contestants, J. H. Lane and A. C. Klinebar, and the contestants.

At 2 o'clock this morning (Wednesday) Governor Durbin, chairman of the sub-committee, announced that no report would be made to the committee on credentials until 9 o'clock to day.

WISCONSIN CASE

LaFollette Faction Refuses to Submit Evidence to Credentials Committee.

Chicago, June 21.—The LaFollette people declined to present their case to the committee on credentials. They made a statement that the national committee had declined to hear the evidence which they were willing to submit and that it was their understanding the committee on credentials had been "approached." For that reason they would make no presentation of their case, but would appeal to the people of Wisconsin in November.

The Wisconsin case was one of the earliest called when the committee went into session at 4 o'clock. The LaFollette people were represented by W. G. Connors of Marshfield, Wis., Gilbert E. Roe of New York, and Enry F. Cochran of New York. The burden of proof was one of contestants and they opened and closed their case with a single statement by Roe, who spoke as follows:

"Several members of the committee on credentials, before which we are now asked to present our case, are members of the national committee which passed on this case before. We do not, therefore, consider this an unprejudiced committee. We understand, however, several members of this committee have been 'approached' and we therefore decline to present our case, preferring to submit it to the people of Wisconsin at the election next November. I will file with the committee this paper containing the statement I have just made."

Dead silence followed Roe's speech. Some members of the committee scowled at him, and others smiled sarcastically, but not a word was said in reply. Roe advanced to the clerk's desk, handed up his paper and then in company with Connors and Cochran left the committee room. As they were leaving Senator McComas, who was acting as chairman of the committee, rose and said:

"I have grave doubts as to whether we should permit that paper to be filed at all."

No further comment was made, however, and the paper went in. The LaFollette people declined to make a statement as they left the committee room and the building.

The "stalwart" faction upon leaving the committee room was handed the statement turned in by Roe and retired to formulate a reply. Senator March said:

"They were simply afraid to meet upon the floor of the convention or before the committee on credentials. Then they insisted every member of the national committee and every member of the credentials committee went away."

Aroused by the charges contained in the statement of the LaFollette faction, the credentials committee granted the request of the Spooner men that they be given a hearing for the purpose of clearing themselves of the charges made by their opponents. The committee decided to make the Wisconsin matter a special order of business and called in the "stalwarts." After listening to arguments by the counsel for the "stalwarts" for an hour and a half a committee was appointed to make a thorough examination of all papers in the case forthwith and report to the full committee as soon as practicable. The investigation was begun immediately, but the report will hardly be ready before morning.

Many members of the credentials committee have expressed themselves as indignant at the imputations which they say were cast upon the entire committee by the staff of the LaFollette faction.

SECRETARY CORTELYOU

Opposition to His Election as Chairman of National Committee Disappears.

Washington, June 21.—Secretary Cortelyou of the department of commerce and labor left this morning for Chicago to attend the Republican national convention. Advice received by President Roosevelt and there here from convention leaders indicate doubt of Cortelyou's selection as national chairman has been removed entirely. Belle in authoritative quarters here he will be elected unanimously by the new national committee at its meeting subsequent to adjournment of the convention. Much opposition to him was based on the allegation he was once a Democrat and is at heart a free trader. A high official to night issued an authorized statement showing that not only were Cortelyou's ancestors ardent Republicans, but that he has himself always been a worker in the party.

POLICE NEWS.

G. M. Sargent, keeper, and three inmates were arrested by the night police force Tuesday for gambling.

Edward Burke was arrested for drunkenness by Policemen Tracey and Charles Glover was arrested for the same offense by the same officer.

Mike Walsh and Mike Kiloran were arrested by Captain Kennedy for drunkenness.

William Baker was arrested for being drunk and disorderly by Captain Kennedy.

RECOVERING BODIES

Growsome Work of Searching for Victims of Steamboat Disaster Continues.

New York, June 21.—The harvest of victims who lost their lives in the General Slocum disaster continued to day. All through the night, despite a terrible electrical storm that swept over the city, searchers held to their gruesome work and early to day the total number of bodies had reached 770. Many of the last bodies recovered were in such condition identification was impossible.

Washington, June 21.—A commission consisting of Lawrence O. Murray, assistant secretary of commerce; Maj. Gen. John M. Wilson, U. S. A., retired; Commander McR. Winslow, U. S. N.; Herbert Knox Smith, deputy commissioner of corporations in the department of commerce, and George Under, supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service, has been appointed to investigate the disaster to the Slocum, wherein more than 800 lives were lost. The commission will report at once to Secretary Cortelyou. This investigation is independent of that of the steamboat inspectors.

BIG CELEBRATION

Officials of World's Fair Arranging for Big Day Fourth of July.

St. Louis, June 21.—Fourth of July arrangements made by the world's fair officials contemplates a celebration which will eclipse any ever held in the United States. Telegrams of invitation have been sent to a number of noted orators and statesmen, asking them to deliver orations on the Fourth. A feature of the day will be the reading of the declaration of independence over the liberty bell. Officials plan upon an attendance of half a million.

SHAW AND BEDE

Address Immense Mass Meeting in the Auditorium.

Chicago, June 21.—Secretary Shaw and Representative Bede, of Minnesota, to night addressed an immense mass meeting in the Auditorium. Bede began by paying a tribute to McKinley and Hanna and said their lives should be an inspiration for men to go on with the work they had begun. Applause greeted his assertion the people of the United States sympathized with Japan in her struggle with Russia, because Japan stood for liberty and higher civilization. Continuing he said the southern people regarded the black population of the south as a great burden to them. In all history of the world, he declared, there had not been another example of progress such as the black men of the south have made in the last forty years. He closed by defending the president's age disability pension order and said that after all the money paid the old soldiers was but a redistribution of wealth.

MISSING LINK SUPPLIED.

Melvin, Iowa, June 21.—The finding to day of the body of Peter Johnson, who disappeared Feb. 13, 1903, supplies the missing link in what is believed to be a foul murder.

Fred Huker, Johnson's hired man, is now in the Osceola county jail, charged with the murder. Huker lived on the Johnson farm until his arrest and always maintained that Johnson had gone on a long visit. He also disposed of nearly all of Johnson's personal property.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN KEYNOTE

SOUNDED BY TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF NATIONAL CONVENTION

Chicago, June 21.—Hon. Elihu Root, ex-secretary of war, and temporary chairman of the Republican national convention, in his speech to the delegates this afternoon sounded the keynote of the party for the coming campaign. He spoke as follows:

The responsibility of government rests upon the Republican party. The complicated nature of the modern world, the 80,000,000 people of the United States govern themselves, answers to no single will. The composite government devised by the framers of the constitution to meet the conditions of modern life more than a century ago, requires the willing cooperation of many minds, the combination of many independent factors, in every forward step for the general welfare.

The president at Washington with his cabinet, the thirty senators representing forty-five sovereign states, the 385 representatives in congress are required to reach concurrent action upon a multitude of questions involving varied and conflicting interests and requiring investigation, information, discussion and reconciliation of views. From all our vast territory with its varieties of climate and industry, from all our great population active in production and commerce, and social progress and intellectual and moral life to a degree never before attained by any people—difficult problems press upon the national government.

Within the past few years more than sixty-six thousand bills have been introduced in congress. Some method of selection must be followed. There must be some preliminary process to ascertain the general sense of public judgment upon the principles to be applied in government and some organization and recognition of leadership which shall bring a legislative majority and the executive into accord in the practical application of those principles, or effective government becomes impossible.

The practical governing machinery of our people has adapted the machinery devised in the eighteenth century to the conditions of the twentieth century by the organization of national political parties. In them men join for the promotion of a few cardinal principles upon which they agree. For the sake of those principles they sacrifice the comforts of the body and the pleasures of the life. They are the principles which they carry on the government in accordance with them they present to the people candidates whose competency and loyalty they approve. The people by their choice of candidates indicate the principles and methods which they wish followed in the conduct of their government. They do not merely choose between men; they choose between principles. They select the principles they profess, the methods they follow, the trustworthiness of their professions, the inferences to be drawn from the records of their past, the general weight of character of the body of men who will be brought into participation in government by their ascendancy.

UNPRECEDENTED RECORD.

When the course of the next administration is but half done the Republican party will have completed the first half century of its national life. Of the eleven administrations since the first election of Abraham Lincoln nine—covering a period of thirty-six years—have been under Republican presidents. For the greater part of that time the majority in such houses of congress has been Republican. History affords no parallel in any age or country for the growth in national greatness and power and honor, the wide diffusion of the comforts of life, the uplifting of the great mass of the people above the hard conditions of poverty, the common opportunity for education and individual advancement, the universal possession of civil and religious liberty, the security of property and security for the rewards of industry and enterprise, the cultivation of national morality, of respect for religious and sympathy with humanity, of liberty and justice, which have marked the life of the American people during this long period of Republican control.

With the platform and the candidates of this convention we are about to ask a renewed expression of popular confidence in the Republican party.

We shall ask it because the principles to which we declare our adherence are right and the best interests of our country require that they should be followed in its government.

We shall ask it because the unbroken record of the Republican party in the past is an assurance of the sincerity of our declarations and the fidelity with which we shall give them effect. Because we have been constant in principle, loyal to our beliefs and faithful to our promises, we are entitled to be believed and trusted now.

We shall ask it because the character of our party gives assurance of good government. Great political organization, competent to govern, is not a chance collection of individuals brought together for the moment as the shifting sands are piled up by wind and sea, to be swept away and reformed again. It is a growth. Traditions and settlements reaching down through struggles of years gone and the stress and heat of old contentions, and the influence of leaders past and away, and the ingrained habit of applying fixed rules of interpretation and of thought all give to a political party known and indelible qualities. From which it follows in its daily life judgment and guidance from the people for good or bad government. We do not deny that other parties have in their members

ASK RETURN TO POWER.

We shall ask the continued confidence of the people because the candidates whom we present are of proved competency and patriotism, fitted to fill the offices for which they are nominated, to the credit and honor of our country.

We shall ask it because the present policies of our government are beneficial and ought not to be set aside, and the people's business is being well done and ought not to be interfered with.

Have not the American people reason for satisfaction and pride in the conduct of their government since the election of 1900, when they rendered their judgment of approval upon the first administration of President McKinley? Have we not had an honest government? Have not the men selected for office been men of good reputation who by their past lives had given evidence that they were honest and competent? Can any private business be pointed out in which losses from honesty have been so few and so trifling proportionately as in the public service of the United States? And when they have occurred, have not the offenders been relentlessly prosecuted and sternly punished without regard to political or personal relations?

Have we not had an effective government? Have not the laws been enforced? Has not the slow process of legislative discussion upon many serious questions been brought to practical conclusions embodied in beneficial statutes? And has not the executive proceeded without vacillation or weakness to give these effect? Are not the laws of the United States obeyed at home? and does not our government command respect and honor throughout the world?

Have we not had a safe and conservative government? Has not property been protected? Are not the fruits of enterprise and industry secure? What safeguard of the constitution for vested rights of individual freedom has not been scrupulously observed? Why has any American administration ever dealt more considerately and wisely with questions which might have been the cause of conflict with foreign powers? When have more just settlements been reached by peaceful means? When has any administration wielded a more powerful influence for peace? and when have we restored more secure in friendship with all mankind.

FOUR YEARS AGO.

Four years ago the business of the country was loaded with burdensome internal taxes, imposed during the war with Spain. By the acts of March 2, 1900, and April 12, 1902, the country has been wholly relieved of that annual burden of over one hundred million dollars, and the further accumulation of a surplus which was constantly withdrawing the money of the country from circulation has been prevented by the reduction of taxation.

Between the 30th of June, 1900, and the 1st of June, 1904, our treasury department collected in revenue the enormous sum of $2,303,000,000 and expended $2,000,000,000 leaving us with a surplus of over $170,000,000 after paying the $50,000,000 for the Panama canal and loaning $1,400,000 to the St. Louis exposition. Excluding these two extraordinary payments, which are investments from past surplus and not expenditures of current income, the surplus for this year will be the reasonable amount of about $120,000,000.

The vast and complicated transactions of the treasury, which for the last fiscal year show actual cash receipts of $1,250,230,232 and disbursements of $1,131,109,414, have been conducted with perfect accuracy and fidelity and without the loss of a dollar. Under wise management the annual act of March 11, 1900, which embodied the sound financial principles of the Republican party, and provided for the maintenance of our currency on the stable basis of the gold standard, has wrought out beneficial results. On the 1st of November, 1903, the interest-bearing debt of the United States was $1,946,949,026, on the 1st of May last the amount of that debt was $956,157,440, a reduction of $1,000,000,000. By refunding, the annual interest has been still more rapidly reduced from $10,375,884 on the 1st of November, 1903, to $2,135,715 on the 1st of June, 1904, an annual saving of over $10,000,000. When the financial act was passed the thinly settled portions of our country were suffering for lack of banking facilities because the banks were in the large towns and none could be organized with a capital of less than $50,000. Under the provisions of that act there were organized down to the 1st of May last 1,296 small banks of $25,000 capital, furnishing, under the safe guardianship of the national banking system, facilities to the small communities of the west and south. The facilities made pos-

Between the 30th of June, 1900, and the 1st of June, 1904, our treasury department collected in revenue the enormous sum of $2,303,000,000 and expended $2,000,000,000 leaving us with a surplus of over $170,000,000 after paying the $50,000,000 for the Panama canal and loaning $1,400,000 to the St. Louis exposition. Excluding these two extraordinary payments, which are investments from past surplus and not expenditures of current income, the surplus for this year will be the reasonable amount of about $120,000,000.

The vast and complicated transactions of the treasury, which for the last fiscal year show actual cash receipts of $1,250,230,232 and disbursements of $1,131,109,414, have been conducted with perfect accuracy and fidelity and without the loss of a dollar. Under wise management the annual act of March 11, 1900, which embodied the sound financial principles of the Republican party, and provided for the maintenance of our currency on the stable basis of the gold standard, has wrought out beneficial results. On the 1st of November, 1903, the interest-bearing debt of the United States was $1,946,949,026, on the 1st of May last the amount of that debt was $956,157,440, a reduction of $1,000,000,000. By refunding, the annual interest has been still more rapidly reduced from $10,375,884 on the 1st of November, 1903, to $2,135,715 on the 1st of June, 1904, an annual saving of over $10,000,000. When the financial act was passed the thinly settled portions of our country were suffering for lack of banking facilities because the banks were in the large towns and none could be organized with a capital of less than $50,000. Under the provisions of that act there were organized down to the 1st of May last 1,296 small banks of $25,000 capital, furnishing, under the safe guardianship of the national banking system, facilities to the small communities of the west and south. The facilities made pos-

A Little Talk on Soap

Probably there is no other household necessity about which so little is known as soap, and yet there is no article that is put to more varied uses in the home.

We doubt if there is a housekeeper in Jacksonville that would tolerate the use of a dish or utensil washed with yellow, resin filled soap, did she know of the renderings of the slaughter house the fat of cholera bugs and diseased cattle that enter into its manufacture.

Stop one moment and consider that your inner garments are not only washed but boiled in these ingredients and only slightly changed by the action of the caustic potash or lye.

All yellow soaps contain these animal fats as do many white soaps that are filled with tallow grease. Ignorance of the composition of these yellow soaps or with the enlightened inability to procure any other have fostered their sale until now.

Recognizing the demand for a soap that would meet the requirements of the hygienic housekeeper we have placed in our stock and now have on sale in our busy basement, a purely vegetable soap made of nothing but coconut butter, cotton seed oil and borax, containing no vile animal whatsover and as pure, fresh and dainty as the ocean breeze. This soap will lather freely in hot or cold, hard or soft water, will not shrink flannels or woolens, will not fade dyed goods will wash the soiled linens and muslins and send them from the tubelam, white, sweet-smelling and whole some, and yet is as valuable and re-freshing in the toilet and bath as in the laundry.

Floating soaps are made to float by beating air into the stock during the making.

Blo-Re-Mo White Laundry Soap

Does not float and it is all soap, no wind.

To introduce this soap into every home in this city we have procured the services of a demonstrator who will be pleased to tell you all about it and show you samples of the oils it contains. And the price within the reach of all 5c the bar, or six for 25c or $1.00 the box, 100 bars.

Remember the name BLO-RE-MO WHITE LAUNDRY SOAP, the aristocrat of all soaps.

WED FILIPINO SWEETHEART.

Oliver Jones, a Hadley boy, who has been with the American army in the Philippines for the past five years, is now on furlough and is visiting at his old home. With him is his wife, a beautiful Filipino maiden, whom Jones met shortly after going to Manila. They have been married about three years and Mrs. Jones is now seeing America for the first time. She speaks but little English and in her conversation with new found friends her husband is compelled to act as her interpreter. Jones served with company A, which was made up at Piti-Beld for service in the Spanish-American war during the summer of 1898, and will be remembered by members of the company as a very agreeable, though a quiet and unassuming young fellow, who made numerous friends. Jones has a slight trace of negro blood. He is attached to the hospital corps. His furlough expires July 16, at which time he must be back in Manila. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will visit the family of Peter Watts in this city next Sunday and expect to make a visit to the world's fair before returning to the islands.—Pike County Republican.

READ THIS:

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all others else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

OLIVER MASON.

There has been a great deal of speculation regarding the future incumbent of the police matron's office in this city. When the office was created it was supposed that Miss Roberts would occupy it indefinitely and it is proper to say to the many who are contemplating applying for the position that the city council cannot undertake to promise an outcome similar to the one that has taken place in the case of the recent occupant.

BIDS WERE OPENED

Commissioners of Mercedosa Lake Drainage and Levee District Hold Meeting Here Tuesday.

John Pelker, F. A. Hillig and Henry Fricke, commissioners of Mercedosa Lake Drainage and Levee districts were in the city yesterday to open bids on the excavation of a drainage ditch and the construction of a levee. The bids were to cover the excavation of 114,422 cubic yards of a drainage channel and 201,947.5 cubic yards of earth in levee, with pumps, engines and boiler, as provided in specifications.

The bids were opened at noon in the presence of the contractors, and were as follows:

ENDEAVOR UNION

Young Peoples' Organization of Christian Church in Session at Carrollton.

The annual convention of the Christian Endeavor union of the Jacksonville district began its session at Carrollton Tuesday. Among the speakers on the program yesterday from this city were: Rev. R. F. Thrapp, Paul Whitney and Charles Eames. The convention will conclude its session today, the principal address to be given by Miss Marie Finney, who has the honor of being superintendent of the largest Junior society in the district. Among the officers elected last night were Paul Whitney, vice president and Miss Finney, superintendent of Junior work.

LOYAL AMERICANS

Supreme Executive Council Are Asked to Call Special Session—W. A. Northcott Maker Address.

Springfield, June 21.—The supreme executive council of the Loyal Americans met in this city Tuesday and a committee from the local lodges of the order was before the body in the morning to ask that a special meeting of the national congress be called in this city July 12 to reorganize the order. Nothing, however, was done in regard to this matter and an adjournment was taken at noon until tomorrow morning at which time the matter will be taken up again. The members of the executive council present in the city Tuesday were B. J. Eagan, of Bloomington; H. D. Cowan, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; J. A. Ager, of Chicago; John Price, of Austin; O. Z. Housley, of Stoughton and W. P. Martindale, of Quincy. The council will have to take into consideration the charges made against the officers of the association by the insurance superintendent of Illinois and the strong efforts being made in favor of a thorough reorganization of the society. The object of the petition to call a special meeting is to place the order on its feet and save the policy holders, leaving the case against the officers who are said to have misappropriated $58,000 of the funds of the societies concerned in the merger, namely: the Loyal Americans, the Fraternal Army and the Royal Circle. The members of the local members of the committee again at the meeting were George M. Morgan, Dr. J. W. Scott and Joseph B. Perkins. The board will meet the local members of the committee again tomorrow morning.

"The first duty of the Loyal Americans is not to get back the money which the head officers took out of the treasury, but to build up the order and save it from wreck," said Lieut. Gov. Northcott in his speech to the local members of the order Monday night.

"Nevertheless we want to know what became of that $50,000," said what became of that $50,000," said tendence at the meeting of the membership of the Loyal Americans and the Royal Circle Monday night at the meeting held in the court house and resolutions were adopted requesting the supreme executive council of the order to call a special meeting of the national congress to be held here on July 12, for the purpose of reorganization.

Governor Northcott, who has been retained as attorney for the local organizations, made a vigorous speech. He declared that the order belonged to the membership and derived its powers from that source alone. He went over the facts in the case as presented to the court in the charge of the insurance superintendent. It is not the part of the members of the order to meet these charges by counter charges and insinuations against a public officer who has done his duty. The officers of the order had, to say the least of it, rendered themselves liable to suspension in that they had never answered the charges and had evaded the question by entering a mere demurrer. He criticized the action of the officers who had pushed through the merger without regard to the wishes of the members.

"The members of this order are not cattle to be sold," said the speaker. "The officers have no right to sell them, the right of membership must be secure."

Governor Northcott advised the members of the order to leave the case of the recovery of the money misappropriated by the officers to be settled in the courts and to bend all their energies to the reorganization of the order.

Dr. J. W. Scott also spoke at some length and while practically agreeing with Governor Northcott, he it was who made the pertinent declaration, "We want to know where that $58,000 has gone," and several others agreed with him.

The meeting was called to order by George W. Morgan and Walter Eden was called to preside. S. H. Gishman acted as secretary.

ORGAN RECITAL

Given at State Street Church Tuesday Afternoon by Miss Borden Before a Delighted Audience.

A delightful organ recital was given at State Street Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Miss Josephine Borden to invited guests of Mrs. Perry C. Thompson. The audience was not only appreciative but demonstrative, and certainly the playing of Miss Borden merited hearty applause.

The program was artistic in its arrangement and the versatile talent of Miss Borden was evidenced by her splendid interpretative ability. She plays with ease and grace and the pianissimo and fortissimo passages are given with equal strength and expression, indicative of a high order of musical intelligence. Her execution was faultless and she is truly a brilliant player.

For first number, the "Festal March," is an inspiring composition and the full round notes of the organ pealed forth with grand effect. The "Spring Song," by Mendelssohn, always so delightful when played by an artist, was given an exquisite rendition and showed most skillful execution. The difficult batiste number was played with equal merit and gave evidence of the ability of the performer.

The second part of the program was in marked contrast to the first and the fine rendition of the Wagner selection was heartily and persistently applauded and Miss Borden responded with an encore, Schubert's "Serenade," that was equally pleasing. The cavetto from the opera, "Mignon" was also a number that charmed those present, while the concluding selection, "Marche Religieuse," by Gullmunt, a grand composition, was played in a most brilliant manner and brought to a close a program of unusual excellence that introduced to the music loving public of this city an artist of decided musical talent.

Miss Borden is serving as organist at State Street church in the absence of Professor Stead, who is in Europe, and the congregation are most fortunate in being able to secure Miss Borden's services.

WAS WASTING AWAY.

The following letter from Robert R. Watts, of Salem, Mo., is instructive: "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years. I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now sound and well." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

A CLOSE GAME

Chicago Giants Defeat Jacksonville Ball Team by Score of 2 to 0—Large Present and Splendid Contest.

The Chicago Giants defeated Jacksonville Tuesday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0. The exhibition was undoubtedly one of the best games ever seen in the city. Considering that the local boys work every day, their showing yesterday against a professional team was remarkable. League ball was played every minute of the game. If all of the contests were of such merit a larger interest would be aroused. More excitement than usual was manifested and the rooting was spirited all during the contest.

There was no shunning, the visitors were given a run for their money and were compelled to play their best all the time to win. The Chicago lads were fond of doing grand stand stunts and this cost them two errors.

A running catch of a fly ball of second by Schumm was nothing short of marvelous. Only one error marred the work of the home team. Chicago scored first in the third, Wyatt first up was hit, stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored on a hit by Ross. Their next run was in the fifth. Hyde hit safely, Wyatt sacrificed, going to third; Talbert made a safe hit and Hyde tallied.

The best chance Jacksonville had for scoring was in the eighth. Hagel led off with a nice single, but tried to steal and was easily thrown out.

The work of Baker in the box is deserving of praise. For a young player with little experience he was decidedly cool and had good control of the ball.

In hits Jacksonville was beaten on two and of these one was a lucky bunt. The score:

MATRIMONIAL RECORD.

BALL-TURNER.

The wedding of Miss Edith Turner, of Virginia, to Mr. J. E. Ball, of Moberly, Mo., was solemnized in the former city at the bride's home Tuesday morning at 8:45 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Carpenter officiating. Only a few intimate friends and relatives were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ball came to this city on the 11:05 train and left on the Wabash yesterday afternoon for Moberly, where they will reside.

OIL AND GAS WELL.

E. L. Foster has returned from Independence, Kan., for a stay of some days with his family. The syndicate with which he is connected has had some fine luck, on its leased land, having struck a gas well with a capacity of 20,000,000 cubic feet a day. The output is fully under control and promises great things in the future. The syndicate has considerable land under its control and will continue to prospect for oil and gas and has large expectations though it has enough now for a good fortune as there are few wells in the world of the capacity this one has shown.

FINE LECTURE

Given by Professor Meter at the Christian Church Tuesday Evening—His Theme Was "New England Rambler."

A large and delighted audience greeted Prof. Meter at the Christian church last evening in his stereoscopic lecture aptly styled, "New England Rambles." The lecture was interesting throughout and held the closest attention of the audience.

The views were excellent and were accompanied by many anecdotes and terse pointed descriptions of the places and of the men whose association with them made them famous. Besides the views of historic places were given the last resting place of our illustrious dead, and scenes surrounding the early lives of our poets, authors and statesmen.

Altogether the lecture was an instructive and entertaining one, and the ladies of the South Side Aid society are to be congratulated upon the success of the evening.

MADE FAST RUN.

Engineer Kapps, of the Wabash, made a good run from Decatur to this city with No. 9 due here at 1:43 p. m. yesterday. The train is a fast one and runs on close time. It left Decatur an hour or so late, but Mr. Kapp managed to shorten the time by twenty-seven minutes during the run to this city.

OVERLAND TRIP.

Prof. A. L. Fuldwyder started out in a survey for Lebanon, Ind., where he expects to spend the summer vacation. He had his family with him and intended to make the entire trip by private conveyance which might work if the roads and weather were propitious, but as he had one horse for the load his progress will be slow.

SANITARY BAKERY.

George W. Fanning has bought the Scott bakery on East State street and will manage it hereafter and have it known as the Sanitary Bakery. He has had the place thoroughly cleaned fixtures and oven repaired and put in good shape and everything arranged for first class business. His specialties will be rye, graham and whole wheat bread, plain and ornamental cakes. Harry Forwell will be his head baker. Wedding parties and all gatherings supplied on short notice.

PRETTY ROMANCE

Persistent Lover Finds Fiancee After Week's Search and Happy Wedding Follows.

James R. Kirkland and Miss Effie Wilson, both of Springfield, were married in this city Tuesday at 12 o'clock, Rev. R. O. Post officiating.

Not only will the announcement of their wedding come as a surprise to their Springfield friends but the bride herself was treated to a surprise in the affair.

A week ago while at her home in Springfield she had some misunderstanding with her affianced and resolved to leave the city without his knowing of her whereabouts. She secured employment as demonstrator for the Bio-Re-Mo Soap Co. and was sent to Jacksonville where she was given an assignment at Groves' grocery store. She secured rooms at Mrs. H. A. Davis' on South Fayette street and entered upon her work here, thinking she had completely eluded her friends. Her affianced at once realizing the predicament into which he had fallen immediately set out on a diligent search for his bride. She had told him that she expected to go to St. Louis and believing she had possibly gone there he proceeded hence, but could find no trace of her. He spent a day in Alton and at other points and returned to Springfield. He could obtain no information regarding her flight, but not to be baffled when there was so much at stake, he watched for the postman to deliver the mail at the home of his bride on Monday morning and being at the gate obtained the mail from the postman to carry to the house. The secret was solved, for among the letters was one addressed to her mother, Mrs. O. T. Johnson, in the handwriting which he so well knew, and post marked Jacksonville. The next train for this place would leave at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and he lost no time making ready for his trip here. He arrived here at 7 o'clock and went immediately to the place where his bride was boarding, and he was amply rewarded for his strenuous search, for he found her there. Explanations followed, reconciliation was made and all went merry as a marriage bell.

The bride was wholly taken by surprise, but she recovered in time to make all things right and their meeting Monday night resulted in decision to forget it all and to seal the verdict with the marriage vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. O. T. Johnson, residing on North Eighth street in Springfield, and is a very estimable young lady with many friends whom she has won by her pleasant and affable manner.

The groom is a resident of Van Wert, Ohio, but for some time has lived in Springfield, where he is an employee of the C. P. & St. L. railway. They will cav Saturday on their wedding trip, which will be spent at the home of the groom in Ohio.

MAD DOG SCARE.

A great deal of anxiety was aroused recently in the vicinity of Waverly owing to a mad dog scare. A stray dog having rabies was running loose near the farm of Mr. Rilling. Three valuable cattle and five hogs belonging to Mr. Rilling were bitten and it is not known whether the animals died. It is feared that more cattle may have been bitten. Fortunately no people were attacked. The dog was finally found and shot.

TEN YEARS IN BED.

R. A. Gray, J. P., Oakville, Ind., writes: "For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys. It was so severe that I could not move part of the time. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a Godsend to me." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

OUR NEIGHBORS

MURRAYVILLE.

Monday was the 66th birthday anniversary of C. F. Strang, so the family and about fifty friends tried to make the occasion one to be remembered by him. All the children and a large number of friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wright and marched in a body to Mr. Strang's residence and the surprise was complete. The evening was spent in a happy manner. The sons and daughters presented him with an elegant Morris chair and the friends and neighbors with a fine gold headed cane as a testimonial of their esteem and the hope was expressed that he would enjoy many more such pleasant occasions.

Walter Hanback will be at his office July 4th prepared to execute pension papers as usual. Friends are invited to call.

Cade Bros. shipped a car load of hogs and K. W. Cunningham a car each of cattle and sheep Monday.

John Tendick, Wiley Tendick and Leonard Tendick left Tuesday morning for a trip through Oklahoma and Texas. If the prospects are favorable they may invest in land.

Miss Pearl Wright, of Jacksonville, spent Sunday with her parents here.

Misses Lena Wade, Irene Wade, Elia Wade, Ethel Rimby and Harry Rimby, Mrs. J. E. Thompson, Emma Rimby, Clara Rimby and C. K. Millon and wife were world's fair visitors this week.

Miss Mabel Turner left Monday for her home in Shelby county. Mr. and Mrs. Dial expect to go this week.

Mrs. Aldridge was quite sick the past few days.

Mrs. Nettie Jones continues to improve slowly and is now able to be up a short time each day.

The town board has purchased a car load of cement to be used in putting in sidewalks.

C. F. Strang has finished baling about seventy-five tons of fine hay.

T. G. Crouse returned Friday from a visit to the world's fair.

Harvey Hull, an employee of Central hospital, was visiting his parents in this place the past few days.

Frank Coultas came home Sunday for a short visit with his parents near this place.

Mr. Henry, of East St. Louis, was visiting his friend, Harry Strang, last Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Aldridge Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Miss Edna Ealey, who has been visiting in Jacksonville, returned home Sunday.

IS YOUR STOMACH ON A STRIKE?

That Dark Brown Taste and Indigestion Indicate Dyspepsia.

If you have a coated tongue and a bad taste in your mouth, the gastric juices of your stomach are not doing their duty—they have gone on a permanent strike—and dyspepsia has its grip upon you.

A little later you will have a fully developed case of chronic dyspepsia and will begin to experience, if you do not already, indigestion, shortness of breath, nausea, with hot bitter fluid and partially digested food rising in your mouth; headache, dizziness, blurred vision and foul breath.

You cannot cure dyspepsia by eliminating one article of diet after another. Everything will soon disagree with you. The only way is to eliminate the cause of the trouble.

Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets regulate the gastric juices, and strengthen the weakened organism, so that digestion soon becomes perfect. One tablet relieves the full feeling after eating that, often is the first warning of dyspepsia.

CURED AFTER TEN YEARS' SUFFERING.

"I wish to thank you for the wonderful cure your Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets have wrought. I suffered for over ten years with a troublesome form of dyspepsia, until I obtained a box of Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets. I used them and found immediate and permanent relief, and the only symptoms remaining of my former trouble is a slight headache occasionally. I have recommended Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets to a great many of my friends and will continue to do so, as I believe them to be the best dyspepsia remedy ever sold."—Mrs. Fitch, 19 S. Brown St., Dayton, Ohio.

We guarantee Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets to cure. The price is 25 cents for a full-size package, and we cheerfully refund your money if you are not satisfied. Only at our store or by mail.

SUED BY HIS DOCTOR.

"A doctor has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Coachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used, as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by all leading druggists.

SIGNS OF DISEASE.

The First Signs of Disease are Weakness, Emaciation and Lack of Vitality.

The first sign of returning health is increase of flesh, strength and vigor. This weakness, emaciation and lack of vitality simply means that certain substances, which go to make up the blood and nerves, have become exhausted; and to renew flesh, muscle and strength, these substances must be restored. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food is composed of the same kind of substances that are lacking in the impoverished blood and nerves when in poor health, and abundant in the rich juices that flow through the system when in perfect health. If people would take this food occasionally in health to keep their blood and nerves in good condition, many spells of weakness and wasting disease would be prevented, and there would be little left for doctors to do. It makes sick people well, puts solid flesh and muscle on thin people, gives vitality to nervous people, restores the lost vitality to nervous people, imparts the true health to pale and yellow people. It adds years to life and puts life into years. Price 50c. per box. The Dr. Chase Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Our new book is free.

CHAPIN RURAL.

Died, Friday, June 17, 1904, at her late home two and a quarter miles north of Concord, Viola Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown, aged 15 years, 6 months and 10 days. She was a patient sufferer and died trusting in the great physician to make her happy in the great beyond. She leaves two brothers and one sister, besides her parents, to mourn her loss. Her grandfather, Brown, preceded her only a few months. The funeral took place Sunday morning at 11 o'clock from the M. P. church, of which she had been a regular attendant when able to ride. Rev. J. L. McKay, the pastor, preached a splendid sermon to a large audience composed of the friends and acquaintances of the parents of the deceased. Seldom has a longer funeral procession taken up the march from Concord to the cemetery three-fourths of a mile west than that which followed the remains of little Viola, who seemed to have only dropped asleep. The grave was covered with choice flowers. Rev. Mr. Adams of the M. E. church was present and assisted Rev. Mr. McKay in the services. It is superfluous to say that Mr. and Mrs. Brown have the sincere sympathy of the community for miles around. The bearers were Howard Reutischer, William Phillips, Edgar Cooper, Lewis Oliver and Elmer Meyer. Six little girls also were in attendance, as follows: Hester Dietrick, Ruth McKay, Bessie Smith, Flora Phillips, Alice Valery and Miss Caldwell.

A large monument of pleasing design, has just been erected to the memory of the late James M. Brown, also to the late Fred Wise.

G. F. Lewis is at work remodeling the Concord M. E. church. The old windows have been replaced by ones of modern design and large transoms placed over the two entrances. The walls and ceiling will be decorated anew and the seats finished in oil. These are the principal changes, but not all. It is the intention to rededicate the church some time in July, but the date has not been fixed yet. When complete this church will be the most up-to-date house of worship in Concord.

The L. O. O. F. and Masonic lodges at Concord are preparing to put down a substantial sidewalk on the south and west sides of their properties. This will be great improvement and be appreciated by the postoffice and telephone people and their patrons. There are a good many roads of other walks in the village that need attention.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ehlers, Mrs. August Brockhouse and Mrs. C. H. Aufdenkamp took in the world's fair one day last week and pronounce it splendid.

Mrs. W. F. Wiley, of Kansas, arrived at Chapin Saturday morning and after making a brief visit with Mrs. J. W. Johnson proceeded to Concord to visit her sisters, Mrs. P. Rayburn and Mrs. E. P. Taylor, and other relatives. Mrs. Wiley had not been in Morgan county for about twenty years. Mr. Wiley died last fall.

Young George Perlich had a mishap last Saturday while driving cattle. While no bones were broken, he must have got some bruises and a fair amount of mud.

Several telephone poles were struck by lightning last Wednesday in the vicinity of Alderson & Bunche's.

The Christian Sunday school at Concord got such a liberal offering for Children's day that they had not counted it all when we went to press last week. It was $28.45 from the classes and $11.76 from the audience, making a grand total of $40.21 for foreign missions. Considering the number of pupils, this is probably as good a showing as any school around here.

The roll of dollar-a-week pupils is a good one. The beautiful part of it is that the children pitched in and earned the dollar, some one way and some another.

This is a great year for Concord. Sunday school is doing a work in the hearts of the people and at W. P. Phillips and son's home, with a corner of the house. Twice last week we saw about

Interest in the Great Bargain Clothing Sale

Continues Unabated

The Neil S. Duckels stock, now being sold out by the Chicago Merchandise and Salvage Company, is without a doubt the center of the most sensational money-saving clothing opportunities recently offered in Morgan county. This fact is easily attested to by the continuous stream of people eager to take advantage of and participate in the great price reductions on every article in this mammoth stock. In many instances

One Dollar Does the Work of Three

The well known high character of the Duckels merchandise is indisputable and while the stock remains in the hands of the Merchandise and Salvage Company, it will be sold absolutely without reservation. We want our money and we will have it.

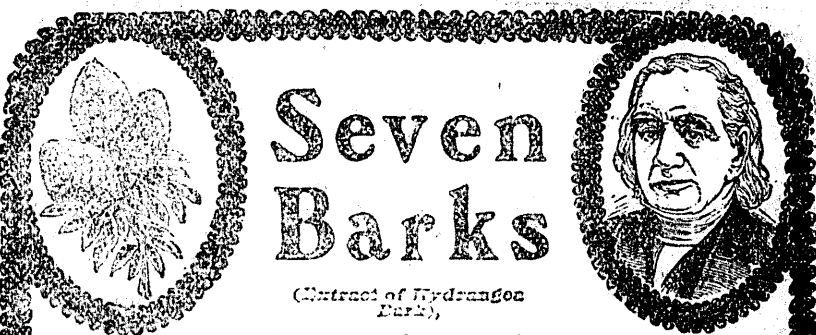

Note the Following Ridiculous Reductions

Men's Suits, former $8 to $10; Now $3.98	Boys' knee pants, worth 35c; now 11c.	Men's suspenders 7c
Men's hats. Not one in the lot cost less than $2 and many $3 and $4; your choice 75c.	Boys' shirts, worth 50c; now 19c.	Boys' clothing at 1-ss than it cost the makers to make.

It will be plainly seen from the above prices that the Merchandise and Salvage Company are terribly in earnest and are also ready at all times to make good any statement given above. Also remember we are the only store in town where your cash is cheerfully refunded if for any reason you are dissatisfied with your purchase.

Seven Barks

(Extract of Hydrangea Bark.)

HYDRANGEA PLANT. Is the name given a wonderfully successful medicinal DR. FRANZ GAUSWEIN.

preparation, discovered and formulated 33 years ago, by the once celebrated physician and chemist, Dr. Franz Gauswein, of Weisbaden, Germany. The cumulative properties of "SEVEN BARKS" are extracted from the bark of a specially grown species of the Hydrangea plant—the bark of seven, as botanists will tell you, grows in seven layers, each of different color and each possessing a distinctive medicinal value. It is the only plant known from which is extracted providence-given elements, which in combination produce a single panacea that is a sovereign remedy for most all ailments and diseases of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels, Liver, Kidneys and Nerves.

"SEVEN BARKS" was introduced in America in 1872 by Mr. Lyman Brown, of New York City, a chemist of national reputation, who in the early '70s spent nearly a year in Weisbaden before he could secure the highly prized formula. Although "SEVEN BARKS" has never been advertised in newspapers, yet thousands of American families are never without a bottle, while hundreds of physicians and druggists are recommending and prescribing it. By the slow process of personal recommendation "SEVEN BARKS" is today one of the most popular and most successful remedies on the American market. The reader has no doubt heard of it.

The undersigned purchased the formula and sole right of distribution in the United States. He realizes that every family desiring continuous good health should always keep a supply on hand, therefore strenuous efforts will be made to introduce it in every home where it is unknown.

If From any disorder of the stomach, or you are inclined to attacks of biliousness or constipation, or if your bowels are inactive at times; if your kidneys are sluggish or if you suffer from sick or neuritic headaches, buy a bottle of "SEVEN BARKS" from your druggist. If this first bottle does not benefit you, or you are disappointed in its action, take the remaining portion back and get your money. It will be cheerfully returned.

If you cannot afford to pay for a bottle now, send us your name and address. We will give you an order on your home druggist for a bottle, with our compliments.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN KEYNOTE.

pled of military science to that necessary preparation for war which is the surest safeguard of peace. The command of the army now rests where it was placed by the constitution—in the president. His power is exercised through a military chief of staff pledged by the conditions and tenure of his office to confidence and loyalty to his commander. Thus civilian control of the military arm, upon which we must always insist, is reconciled with that military efficiency which can be obtained only under the direction of the trained military expert.

MILITIA LAW.
Four years ago we were living under an obsolete militia law more than a century old, which Washington and Jefferson and Madison, and almost every president since their time, had declared to be worthless. We presented the curious spectacle of a people depending upon a citizen soldiery for protection against aggression, and making practically no provision whatever for training its citizens in the use of self-defense or in the elementary duties of the soldier. The mandate of the constitution which required congress to provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia had been left unexecuted. In default of national provisions, bodies of state troops, created for local purposes and supported at local expense, had grown up throughout the union. Their feeling of distrust and dislike than of comradeship. Their arms, equipment, discipline, organization and methods of obtaining and accounting for supplies were varied and inconsistent. They were usually to become a part of any homogeneous force, and their relations to the army of the United States were undefined and conjectural. By the militia act of Jan. 29, 1916, congress has now placed the militia under the constitution. Leaving these bodies still to perform their duties to the states, it made them the organized militia of the United States. It provided for their conformity to uniform, organization and discipline to the army of the United States; it provided the ways in which, either strictly as militia or as volunteers, they should be called upon to perform their duty when called upon; it provided for their training, instruction and exercise conjointly with the regular army; it imposed upon the regular army the duty of promoting their efficiency in many ways. In recognition of the service to the nation which the citizen soldiers would be able to render, the nation assumed its share of the burden of their armament, their supply and their training. It recognized that the citizen system have already demonstrated not only that we can have citizens outside of the regular army trained for duty in war, but that we can have a body of volunteers ready for service, between whom and the officers of the regular army have been created by intimate association and mutual helpfulness, those relations of confidence and esteem without which no army can be effective.

The first administration of McKinley fought and won the war with Spain, put down the insurrection in the Philippines, annexed Hawaii, rescued the legations in Mexico, and established the gold standard by the financial legislation of the Roosevelt administration.

The present administration has reduced taxation, reduced the public debt, reduced the annual interest charge, made the progress in the reduction of trusts, fostered business, promoted agriculture, built up the navy, reorganized the army, resurrected the militia system, inaugurated a new policy for the preservation and reclamation of public lands, given civil government to the Philippines, established the republic of Cuba, bound it to us by ties of gratitude, of commercial interest and of common defense, secured the closed gateway of the isthmus, strengthened the Monroe doctrine, protected the integrity of China, opened wider its doors of trade, advanced the principle of arbitration and promoted peace among the nations.

We challenge judgment upon this record of effective performance in legislation, in execution and in administration. The work is not fully done; policies are not completely wrought out; domestic questions still press continually for solution; other trusts must be regulated; the tariff may presently require revision, and if so, should receive it at the hands of the friends and not the enemies of the protective system; the new Philippine government has only begun to develop its plans for the benefit of the long-suffering people of that island; the canal, but the canal is yet to be built; peace does not yet reign on earth, and considerable firmness backed by strength is still needed in diplomacy.

The American people have now to say, whether policies shall be reversed, or committed to unfriendly guardians; whether performance, which now proves itself for the benefit and honor of our country, shall be transferred to unknown and perchance to feeble hands.

No dividing line can be drawn athwart the course of this successful administration. The fatal 14th of September, 1901, marked no change of policy, no lower level of achievement. The bullet of the assassin robbed us of the friend we loved; it took away from the people the president of their choice; it deprived civilization of a potent force making always for righteousness and for humanity. But the fabric of free institutions remained unshaken. The government of the people went on. The great party that William McKinley led, wrought still in the spirit of his example. His true and loyal successor has been equal to the burden cast upon him. He has been different in temperament and method, he has proved himself of the same elemental virtues—the same fundamental beliefs. With faithful and reverent memory, he has executed the purposes and continued untrodden the path of President McKinley for the peace, prosperity and honor of our beloved country. And he has met all new occasions with strength and resolution and far-sighted wisdom.

TRIBUTE TO HANNA.
As we gather in this convention, our hearts go back to the friend—the never to be forgotten friend, whom when last we met we acclaimed with one accord as our universal choice to bear a second time the highest honor of the nation; gift and back still, memory goes through many a year of leadership and loyalty.

How wise and skillful he was! how modest and self-effacing! how deep his insight into the human heart! how swift the intuitions of his sympathy! how compelling the charm of his gracious presence! He was so unselfish, so thoughtful of the happiness of others, so genuine a lover of his country and his kind. And he was the kindest and tenderest friend who ever grasped another's hand. Alas, that his virtues did plead in vain against cruel fate!

Yet we may rejoice, that while he lived he was crowned with honors that success in his great tasks, the restoration of peace, the approval of his countrymen, the affection of his friends, gave him a quiet month in his home at Canton, Ohio, and contentment.

And with McKinley we remember Hanna with affection and sorrow—his great lieutenant. They are together again. But we turn as they would have us turn, to the duties of the hour, the hopes of the future; we turn as they would have us turn, to prepare ourselves for struggle under the same standard borne in other hands by right of true inheritance. Honor, truth, courage, purity of life, domestic virtue, love of country, loyalty to high ideals—all these combined with active intelligence, with learning, with experience in affairs, with the conclusive proof of competency afforded by wise and conservative administration, by great things already done and great results already achieved—all these we bring to the people with another candidate. Shall not these have honor in our land? Truth, sincerity, courage! these underlie the fabric of our institutions. Upon hypocrisy and sham, upon cunning and false pretense, upon weakness and cowardice, upon the arts of the demagogue and the devices of the mere politician—no government can stand.

No system of popular government can endure in which the people do not have active and intelligent participation. Our president has taken the whole people into his confidence. Incapable of deception, he has put aside concealment. Frankly and without reserve, he has told them what their government was doing, and the reasons. It is no campaign of appearances upon which we enter, for the people know the good and the bad, the success and the failure, to be credited and charged to the account. It is no campaign of sounding words and specious pretences, for our president has told the people with frankness what he believed and what he intended. He has meant every word he said, and the people have believed every word he said, and with him this convention agrees because every word has been sound Republican doctrine. No people can maintain free government who do not in their hearts value the qualities which have made the present president of the United States conspicuous among the men of his time as a type of noble manhood. Come what may here—come what may in November, God grant that those qualities of brave true manhood shall have honor throughout America, shall be held for an example in ever home, and that the youth of generations to come may grow up to feel that it is better than wealth, or office, or power, to have the honesty, the purity, and the courage of Theodore Roosevelt.

THE DEATH RECORD.
STRUCK.
Mrs. Fredricka Struck died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hagman, in the village of Reesville, Wis., Monday at the age of 84 years of the diseases incident to old age.
Deceased was born in Germany Nov. 23, 1820. Her maiden name was Fredericka Koepfer. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Hagman, of Reesville, Wis., and one son, Henry Struck, of this city. Her husband had already preceded her to the great beyond.
The remains are expected to arrive from the north on the 10 o'clock train and upon their arrival brief services will be held at the residence of Henry Struck at 1:30, and a more complete service at the German M. E. church at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

WARNING.
If you have kidney or bladder trouble and do not use Foley's Kidney Cure you will have only yourself to blame for results, as it positively cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

Light Weight Clothing For Comfort During the Coming Hot Days

We are ready to supply those men who like to make choice early, with the smartest looking Summer Suits—coats and trousers—ever seen hereabouts. We have a number of attractive styles in a big variety of tropical-weight fabrics, handsomely tailored and finished and well worth a third more than we ask. Among the assortment will be found the famous which is unmatched for style, quality, workmanship and fit. The severest test of good workmanship comes in the light-weight goods. Unless a suit is properly tailored, it will soon look bedraggled and shapeless. But that won't happen with a suit bought here—the tailor work is too skillfully executed for that to happen.

Stylish Outing Suits, made of wool-crashes, homespuns, flannels and other light-weight fabrics in light and medium color effects; coats half lined or skeleton lined; trousers have belt loops and permanent turn-ups. Prices range from

$6.50 to $15.00

Men's Straw Hats and Fine Furnishings

It's time for a new straw. Here you can see every new style and shape, and make a choice of a nobly striped or semit straw hat, at $1.00 to $3.00.

Light-weight Balbriggan, gauze and lisle Underwear in great assortment; the comfortable and perfect fitting kind that wears well. Prices range from 50c up.
